Prisons, Rebellion, Crime.
Our Fly-Catching Parent.
A New Standard Lady.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE.

(Copyright, 1929, by King Features Syndicate, Inc.)
SOMETHING is wrong with our prisons. There is something to think about seriously, in connection with our desperate crime wave.

For the second time this year convicts in Auburn prison have risen in rebellion, following desperate uprisings in other prisons, seizing the warden and a dozen guards, having killed the head keeper.

BOMBS, bullets, tear gas and determination will end this rebellion. The men are desperate, defying death. But the intelligence of their leadership is not high.

The public will wonder at these repeated outbreaks in American prisons, the most desperate of all only recently in the state of Colorado, five prison uprisings within a few months.

It is it that crime diminishes in Europe, with prisons offered for rent for industrial or other useful purposes, while we have a steadily rising crime wave in this country?

Is it that bootleggers have financed crime on a gigantic scale, or is it part of a general disregard for law promoted "respectability," the "upper classes" flouting a prohibition law because it happens not to please them?

Whatever the cause, the results are serious, and the nation will have to do more than talk about them.

WILLIAM J. BRYAN used say "You can have monkeys in your family, but I don't want any in my family."

What could he think if Dr. Harriet Cutler Waterman, learned lady of the American Museum of Natural History, could tell him that one of his ancestors was a "fly-catching lemur," an inferior cousin of the ape, that walked around on his hind legs, leaping into the air catching flies and birds with his hands?

THAT'S what the learned lady says and she can prove it. But what difference does it make? All life on this planet comes from the same source which rules the universe.

Why should we complain if we had humbler forms in the beginning?

Mr. Bryan would have been much surprised to see himself as he looked eight months before he was born. A fly-catching lemur would look like Michael Angelo's Moses, compared with Bryan at that age.

UNITED STATES BUREAU OF STANDARDS says the ideal woman is now "the perfect 34," not the "perfect 36," of days before the "bovish figure."

If your bust is 36, your waist should measure 31 inches, hips 39 inches.

Thirty-four bust, 28-inch waist, 37-inch hips, is the "standard lady," according to the bureau, which, however, knows nothing about it.

ABRAHAM LINCOLN's mother was a "standard 34" nor was "Mother With the Big Feet," mother of Charlemagne.

For a cloak model, the "perfect 34" is ideal, perhaps.

For an efficient mother, which is what counts, bigger busts, bigger waists, bigger hips.

THERE is a good deal of money left and C. L. Kitchell, head of the New York's National City bank, has some of it. Yesterday he bought for his bank and syndicate $65,000,000 of New York City 4 1/2 per cent corporate stock and bonds.

He paid a premium of $1,526,657 above par, a good price for securities that pay only 4 1/2. However, they are free of income tax, which makes a difference.

Heavy floods in parts of England, the Thames three miles wide in places, swollen rivers and dangerous flood conditions in France, the storm that has wrought such havoc continues roaring along Europe's west coast.

Italy's steamship Leonardo Da Vinci, has safely reached Graveyard with a precious cargo of art treasures. The field of Runny Meadows where Magna Charta was signed is a lake.

In China the storm is worse than in Europe, for it is a storm of hatreds, bloodshed and Civil War.

24.80-Mill Tax Rate For City Next Year

COUNTY CALLS FOR 10-CENT JUMP IN LEVY

Liverpool Township Bill is Decreased 40 Cents.

EXPLAIN BOOST

Hospital Aid and Garbage Collection Voted.

East Liverpool's tax rate for 1930 will be $24.80 for each $1,000 property valuation, an increase of 10 cents over the 1929 bill, County Auditor Elmer E. Walker, Lisbon, announced today.

The Liverpool township bill will be $22.20 for each $1,000 valuation, compared with $22.60 last year, a decrease of 40 cents.

The slight increase in the rate for East Liverpool was occasioned by the adoption of the three-fourth mill hospital levy and the one-half mill garbage collection tax at the polls last month. This boost, along with increases in the demands from other funds, more than made up for the expiration of the two-mill road levy.

Valuation Decreased. Of this levy $11.49 is for school purposes, $8.34 being assessed for the board of education and $2.65 by the state which is, in return, related to the local board.

The municipal tax levy for maintenance of the police, fire and other departments is $7.59. The county levy is $5.00, while the state is assessing 45 cents for the soldiers' bonus and the proposed new state office building. The remaining 27 cents is the township levy.

East Liverpool's tax valuation showed a shrinkage of $205,760 during the last year. The tax duplicate for 1930 is $31,996,280.

Valuation of the school district, including Liverpool township and a section of St. Clair township, also showed a reduction. The 1930 valuation is $34,353,800, while that for 1929 was $34,542,680, a reduction of $188,880.

Wellsville Rate Highest. Wellsville's rate, $28.20, is the highest in the county, although it is $1.50 less than it was last year.

The lowest rate is $15.30 which is assessed against property in the Knox township school district in Butler township.

Of the 64 taxing districts, 43 have lower rates, while 16 have increases. Five are unchanged.

Of the 26 tax increase proposals submitted in the county at the November election, 16 were defeated. The rates are fixed by the county budget commission which is made up of the county auditor, treasurer and prosecuting attorney. The rates must be approved by the state tax commission before being certified to the county treasurer for collection.

Time limit for the payment of taxes has been extended by the county commissioners to January 20, 1930.

SCHOOL PLANS MINSTREL SHOW

Rehearsals Under Way for Production by Pupils at Lincoln Building.

Rehearsals are being conducted daily for the minstrel performance which will be one of the features of the indoor carnival, sponsored by the Lincoln Home and School association, at the school in Orchard Grove avenue next Tuesday night.

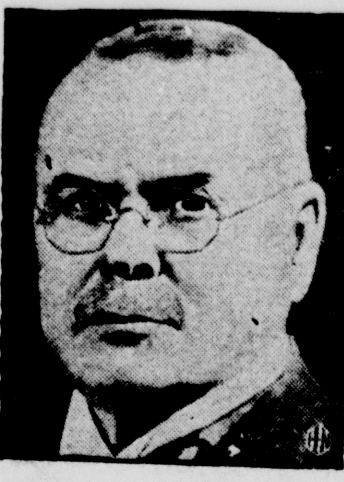

Proceeds of the affair will be used in the purchase of school equipment. The minstrel will be directed by Miss Bonetta Fyfe, teacher of the fourth grade.

Pupils of each grade will take part in the program. The first grade will present a circus performance while the combined first and second grades will show a collection of relics and war souvenirs.

The second grade room will present a rhythmic orchestra. Third and fifth grades will serve refreshments while the sixth grade will conduct a fish pond. A motion picture performance will be given by pupils of the eighth grade.

Ohio Woman is Auto Victim. COLUMBUS, O., Dec. 13.—(INS.)—Injuries which she suffered in an automobile accident 11 days ago, today caused the death of Mrs. Grace Morris, 46. Funeral services will be held Saturday and burial will be made in the Forest Grove cemetery at Circleville.

Named G. O. P. Aid

Theodore Gary of Kansas City was unanimously elected treasurer of the Republican senatorial committee, according to the announcement of Senator Moses of New Hampshire, chairman of the committee.

SLAYS WIFE, STEP-FATHER

Charleston, W. Va., Man Flees After Tragedy.

By International News Service. CHARLESTON, W. Va., Dec. 13.—John Gann, 40, shot and killed his wife, Catherine, and her step-father, Richard Price, here early today following a domestic quarrel, according to police.

Gann fled from the house where the shooting occurred and escaped in an automobile.

He was an electric refrigerator service man.

NEWPORT, Ky., Dec. 13.—Local police today captured a man whom they declared was John Gann, 40, the Charleston, W. Va., electrician who allegedly shot and killed his wife, Catherine, 38, and her step-father, Richard Price, in the West Virginia city earlier today.

The suspect was taken into custody on a Chesapeake and Ohio railroad express train which local authorities searched.

PASTOR GIVES KIWANIS TALK

Salineville Club Hears The Rev. Ross Wilson.

SALINEVILLE.—The Rev. Ross Wilson, pastor of the United Presbyterian church, addressed Kiwanis club members at their noon luncheon here yesterday in the church parlors.

The Rev. Mr. Wilson discussed the subject, "What Are You Going to Do With Christ?"

Charles Maple and the Rev. Mr. Wilson were in charge of the program.

The committee next week will be John Hutson and Ray Selfridge.

DOHENY TRIAL SET FOR MAR. 6 IN WASHINGTON

Oil Operator Charged With Giving Bribe To Fall.

ELKS HILLS CASE

Former Member of Cabinet Already Convicted.

By International News Service. WASHINGTON, Dec. 13.—The trial of Edward L. Doheny, multi-millionaire oil magnate, on a charge of having given Albert B. Fall, ex-secretary of the interior, a bribe of $100,000 in connection with his lease of the Elks Hills naval oil reserve, was set today by Justice William Hitz in district supreme court on March 6 next.

Fall already has been convicted of having accepted this money in a little black satchel, but is at liberty pending an appeal of the case.

Doheny was a witness at the recent trial of Fall, which resulted in conviction. He testified that the $100,000 was not a bribe, but "a loan from one old friend to another."

When the jury brought in the verdict convicting Fall, the aged oil magnate had to be restrained by his attorneys from shouting imprecations at the court.

YOUTH DENIES SLAYING HERMIT

West Virginian Maintains Innocence After 15 Hours of Police Quiz.

By International News Service. WAYNE, W. Va., Dec. 13.—Chancellor Ferguson, 22, who is accused of slaying George Crockett, a hermit in the remote one-mile creek section of Wayne county, will be arraigned here this afternoon on a charge of murder, according to Prosecutor Jess Hammock.

Ferguson was caught after a four-day man hunt in the Wayne county hills. He has withstood 15 hours of continuous questioning by police and maintains he is innocent.

Crockett was found slain in his isolated cottage Sunday. His body had been riddled with bird shot. He was reported to have kept large sums of money about his place.

OCEAN FLIGHT IS POSTPONED

Proposed Europe-to-Montevideo Air "Hop" is Halted by Unfavorable Weather.

By International News Service. SEVILLE, Dec. 13.—Proposed attempt of Captain Leon Challe, of France, and Major Larre-Borges, of Uruguay, to link Europe and Montevideo by a non-stop flight has been postponed until Sunday night as a result of unfavorable weather conditions.

It is extremely doubtful, according to experts, whether a flight from Seville to Montevideo would set a new long distance record, which the aviators wish to do, so they may start from Istres, France. By taking off from Istres, the Franco-Uruguayan team might nose through the record by a few miles.

They will fly a Breguet-Bidon biplane, powered with two 450-horsepower Lorraine motors.

W. S. VARE HAS RESTFUL NIGHT

Pennsylvanian, in Atlantic City After Fugitive Fight in Senate, is Cheerful.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Dec. 13.—(INS.)—William S. Vare, who is here after his futile fight for recognition by the senate as senator from Pennsylvania, was resting comfortably today, Mrs. Vare told newspaper men.

She said that Mr. Vare spent a restful night in his Chelsea home, and that he was quite cheerful.

O. S. U. Campus Leader Dies. By International News Service. COLUMBUS, O., Dec. 13.—Samuel J. Seibert, 21, president of the student senate at the Ohio State university here and one of the campus leaders, died here early today from influenza after an illness of about two weeks.

Y. M. C. A. AIDE APPEALS FOR BOYS' LEADERS

Sunday Schools Not Succeeding, Indus Club Told.

GANGING IS HIT

W. S. Chambers of Columbus Dinner Speaker.

"Sunday schools of today are not succeeding in the training of boys," W. S. Chambers of Columbus, boys' work secretary of Ohio Y. M. C. A., said in an address at the dinner of the Y-Indus club in the Y. M. C. A. last night. "Sunday schools are lacking in the interest which is necessary to hold together a group of boys," he declared.

Speaking on the "Effect of Moral and Religious Influence on Boys," Chambers emphasized the need for leaders of character and training to interest boys in the better things of life.

Parental Training Urged. He said in part: "The situation at present is an unhappy one. Our Sunday schools are not sufficient to overcome the effects of young boys ganging together without proper leadership. Parents and teachers must take the interest they should in training the boys."

In a recent survey in an Ohio city, 250 separate gangs of boys from the ages of 10 to 16 were found. None of the groups was under the proper leadership. It is from such groups that our criminals come. Statistics show that if a gang of boys is permitted to stay together for more than two years without the influence of moral and religious leadership, some of them are bound to become criminals or delinquents.

Clubs are Recommended. "Organize the boys into clubs, give them leaders who will instill into them the ideas of good fellowship and fair play mixed with the teachings of Christ and, at the same time, keep them physically fit and happy with play and recreation and the problem of keeping our children out of trouble will be solved."

"The boys of today are not any worse than those of former days. They merely have more to contend with, more temptations, and more publicity when they do wrong. Just as muscles are developed by exercise, so may moral and religious fiber be strengthened by constant contact with the better things of life."

Chambers left today for Warren where he will attend a directors' conference.

MAN SNATCHED FROM DEATH ON FRIDAY 13TH

Frederick W. Edel Gets Stay at Sing Sing.

NEW EVIDENCE

"Thank God," Condemned Man's Answer to Governor.

By International News Service. OSSINING, N. Y., Dec. 13.—Here's one man more than glad for the opportunity of braving Friday the 13th with all its imaginary witcheries.

Fifty minutes before he was to have paid with his life in the electric chair for the murder of Mrs. Emilie Harrington in a New York apartment two years ago, Frederick W. Edel, was granted a reprieve by Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt, last night.

New evidence brought to the governor's attention at a last minute interview with Edel's counsel was responsible for the stay of execution.

"Thank God," said Edel in his death cell, when notified of the governor's action. "I'm tickled stiff. The governor did the right thing."

Orroville Villagers Wait In Vain For Melvin Horst

Parents of Missing Boy Bedeck Room With Christmas Tree and Toys After Receiving Hoax Note.

ORROVILLE, O., Dec. 13.—(INS.)—In a room bedecked with last year's Christmas tree and the toys of a child, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Horst waited vainly all night long for the return of their son, four-year-old Melvin Horst, who mysteriously disappeared from the streets here two nights after Christmas, last year.

The little boy's return had been promised in an unsigned note to the editor of a local newspaper. The note demanded $100 and freedom from arrest and this was agreed to by authorities.

Disappeared a Year Ago. However, the note had proved to be a cruel hoax which made the parents hope that their little dimpled-cheeked and blonde-haired boy would be with them again this Yuletide and then dashed that hope on the rocks with the coming of daylight.

The parents of the child have kept the Christmas tree and toys which were Melvin's last year. The tree stands barren and barren.

Ellas and Arthur Arnold—63-year-old father and 18-year-old son recently stood trial for a second time on child-stealing charges in connection with the lad's disappearance, but they were acquitted.

Melvin vanished from the streets here on the night of December 27, last year. He has not been seen nor heard from since. The case has remained an enigma, unexplained and unsolved by justice.

Trip to Wooster Futile. By International News Service. CLEVELAND, Dec. 13.—Roy Horst, uncle of Melvin Horst, the boy who has been missing from his home in Orroville for nearly a year, returned to Wooster early today after failing to identify a child at the detention home here as Melvin.

A telephone message to Horst from an attendant at the detention home stated that a boy, picked up with a man who said he was the father, in a downtown department store yesterday, was believed to be Melvin.

Horst asserted he was positive the boy here was not his missing nephew although he bore a close resemblance to Melvin.

AIRPLANE CLUB NAMES LEADERS

Arthur McDevitt Named President of Junior High School Organization.

Arthur McDevitt was elected president of the Junior High Airplane club, composed of eighth grade boys at an organization meeting in the High school building last night.

Other officers were: Vice-president, Ronald Gardner; secretary, treasurer, Robert Burbick; publicity manager, Jack Eccleston; instructor, Albert E. Reid; assistant instructor, Robert Burbick.

Overheated Furnace Calls Firemen. The Central fire department was called to the home of Mrs. Daisy Zook, 1913 Bradshaw avenue, by smoke caused from an overheated furnace at 6:30 o'clock last night. There was no damage.

MIDLAND MAN KILLED WHEN AUTO UPSETS

Wellsville Driver and Another Passenger Are Hurt.

SKID ON CURVE

Car Strikes Telephone Pole at Beaver Falls.

John Ames, 28, Beaver avenue, Midland, was killed and William Calvin, 27, and John Wedell, 20, both of Wellsville, were injured, when an automobile in which the three were riding, skidded into a telephone pole and overturned on the New Brighton-Ellwood City road, near Beaver Falls, at 7:45 o'clock last night.

Coroner Investigates. Ames, whose head was crushed and his jaw and right arm broken, was pronounced dead when the ambulance reached the Providence hospital, Beaver Falls. Calvin sustained a possible fractured skull and injuries to his shoulder. Wedell, driver of the car, was cut about the head.

Wedell, driver of the car, is held by Beaver Falls police pending an investigation.

Coroner Dr. Harry McCarter rendered a verdict of "accidental death" today.

Three Employed in Midland. The three autoists were employed by the Ritter-Conley company of Leetadale, Pa., in the construction of tanks at the Standard Oil company's bulk station in upper Midland. The automobile, a sedan driven by Wedell was traveling at a fast rate of speed when the accident occurred, Beaver Falls witnesses said.

The injured were attended by Dr. C. J. Buck.

Body of Ames was removed to the Spratt mortuary, New Brighton, where it will be held pending the arrival of his widow from Cleveland, his former home.

PACKERS IDLE AFTER DISPUTE

Sixty Men Fail to Report For Work at Laughlin Plants in Newell.

Sixty packers employed at the Nos. 4, 5, 6 and 7 plants of the Homer Laughlin China company, Newell, failed to report for work today as a result of a dispute over the packing of a certain sized package.

Officials of the National Brotherhood of Operative Potters said they had received no notification of the dispute. Homer Laughlin China company executives reported that no demands had been served upon them.

The dispute was considered by the standing committee of the Brotherhood and the United States Potters' association Tuesday night, but a decision was deferred.

TWO FIREMEN GET FOUR DAYS

Chief Bryan Suspends Captain Richard Stivason and Cecil Stillwell Under Mayor's Orders.

Acting upon instructions of Mayor R. C. Benedum and Service-Safety Director J. W. Moore, Fire Chief Thomas Bryan yesterday afternoon served four-day suspension notices upon Captain Richard Stivason and Fireman Cecil Stillwell of the Central station, charging "conduct unbecoming an officer."

William Davis has been appointed acting fireman during the four-day period.

MARKETS AND FINANCIAL

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKET

BY W. S. COUSINS.
International News Service Financial Editor.

NEW YORK, Dec. 13.—Bears in the stock market in the first hour today paid part of the price of yesterday's victory over the bulls, as prices of the leading industrial shares were jerked up 3 to 9 points in a brief period of furious trading.

Thursday's final selling wave crowded the short side of the market and the professionals who put in bids for large blocks of stock at the opening found little available at current prices. Transactions in the first half-hour totalled 772,000 shares, double yesterday's first period volume.

United States Steel jumped ahead to 172 for a gain of 5 1/2 points. Standard Gas moved up 9 points to 123; Dupont 7 points to 120; American can 9 to 121 1/2. Radio, which started the day at 39 1/2, down 1 1/2, for a block of 200,000 shares, rallied sharply to 44. Consolidated Gas sold up 5 points at 99 1/2 and Columbia Gas 4 1/2.

With the bulk of the short covering out of the way, the bears started a new attack on some sections of the market. Fox Film A was again under fire and dropped off 6 points to the year's lowest price at 37. United States Steel dropped back to 157 1/2. General Electric and Westinghouse failed to hold their gains, and "drives" against the pivotal stocks netted the bears a few points. The coppers and oils were steady, with narrow price changes.

GROCERS FACE DAMAGE ACTION

Friday, the 13th, Unlucky to Princeton, W. Va., Firm to the Extent of a $10,000 Suit.

By International News Service, PRINCETON, W. Va., Friday, Dec. 13.—It was an unlucky day for the Durham Brothers, grocers, when one of their clerks followed two Bluefield women to the street, accused them of stealing a five-cent can of milk, made them return to the store and then vainly searched them and their parcels for the missing article.

The women, Mrs. Eva Harris and Mrs. Lucy Ellis, were very much mortified at the incident which occurred at Roanoke, Va., near here.

They brought suit for $10,000 damages. The circuit court here awarded Mrs. Harris $3,000 and Mrs. Ellis $1,500.

Today was another unlucky day for the Durham brothers as they are faced with this situation.

WELLSVILLE Social News

Class 10 of the Methodist Protestant church held its annual Christmas party last night in the home of the teacher, Mrs. James Leighton, Broadway, with a coverdish supper served at 6:30. Tables were decorated with lighted candles.

Games and contests were the diversions. Trophies were awarded Mrs. Virgil Hawksworth, Mrs. Pearl Keenan and Miss Lois Culp. Gifts were presented Mrs. Leighton and the assistant teacher, Charles Culp, and also exchanged among members.

The Rev. and Mrs. L. C. Momborg were special guests.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Fred Lowary, First street.

A good sized crowd witnessed the production of three one-act plays, two comedies and a dramatic sketch last night by members of the high school dramatic club under the direction of Miss Edith L. Ross.

Members of the various casts were: Lois Momborg, Avery Butler, John Wyper, Ruth Cook, Robert Nelson, Paul Katz, Joseph Duty and Christine Scheets.

Knights and Ladies of the Golden Eagle met last night for inspection in the American Legion hall, Main street. Social hour was enjoyed during which refreshments were served.

The next meeting will be held on Thursday, December 26.

Still The Champion

Theatergoers, through the medium of the ubiquitous newswriter, have recently seen Gene Tunney and his bride as they left the ship which brought them back from their prolonged honeymoon in Europe. Not a few have been impressed by the former champion's pleasant appearance and his obvious embarrassment at being forced to speak for the sound cameras.
Tunney is a real story-book hero, even if he never attained the personal popularity enjoyed by Jack Dempsey, Jim Jeffries, James J. Corbett or John L. Sullivan. He fought for his country with the marines, he fought his way through many hard battles to become heavyweight champion of the world and defended that title on a memorable occasion in Chicago. While he was accomplishing all this, he found time to school himself to a remarkable degree and make himself so attractive that he won the hand and heart of a social-register heiress. Thereupon, having gathered a full measure of this world's goods, he doffed ten ounce gloves for kid gloves and there is no one can deny that he has won them gracefully and profitably. His association with George Bernard Shaw alone is a matter to draw the admiration of the world.
While all this has been going on, promoters have been trying to find some wild man, some Bull of the Pampas or Potent Pusher from the Pyrenees who can put prize fighting back on the popular level from which Tunney raised it with his demonstrations of the conquest of mind over matter. The promoters are still trying and meanwhile there have been many lean days for the knights of the battered ears. Tunney's belt still hangs behind the door where he hung it.
It would be very nice if the cultivated remnants of the one-time marine and burly fisticuff would condescend to leave his books and his auction bridge just for a few hours and show the boys out in front how it is done and what it is all about. The absence of any successor makes Tunney a really great man—the last of the million dollar fighters.

Where Seal Money Goes

Every cent of the money contributed by the East Liverpool district to the Christmas health seal movement is expended in the warfare against the spread of tuberculosis, the 1928 report of Mrs. Louis Steinfeld, campaign chairman, shows.
Without the financial aid which accrues from the efforts of the City Federation of Women's clubs and public and parochial school children, who raised $2,161.77 through the sale of the cheery messengers of health and good will last year, East Liverpool would have faced a problem in paying the salary of the city nurse. Out of the $5 per cent of the fund retained for home service, $720 was given to the nurse fund. The remainder of the salary was paid by the Red Cross chapter and the health board.
In addition, the seals provided $984 for milk, eggs and other food supplies for tuberculosis patients among whom the city nurse spends no small part of her time. And $126.55 was invested in health education and other activities which are factors in reducing the toll exacted by the white plague, while the National and State Health associations received 15 per cent of the fund, or $126.55.
With less than $7 in the treasury to meet demands during December, the need of funds to carry on is urgent. The importance of this humanitarian movement, which has reduced the tuberculosis death rate one half during the last 20 years, should prompt a heavy response to the appeal for the $2,141 quota set for 1929.
Put a health seal on every letter!

The Disturbance in Haiti

The student strikes and other disturbances in Haiti have subsided, but their occurrence has opened the way to conjecture concerning their causes. Since the exercise of some sort of American authority in Haiti seems to be inevitable for many years to come it is obvious that the state department should arrive at some definite conclusion regarding its future policy.
The disturbances have an undoubted connection with the approaching election of a successor to President Borno, who has excited opposition by his cooperation with the American high commissioner. The political class is anxious to oust him and open the way to exploitation of the masses, protected under American rule. Notwithstanding the advantages made possible under enlightened rule, there has been bitter resentment on the part of the Haitian nationalists, who are anxious to resume the high-handed policies pursued prior to American intervention in 1915.
The United States government did not enter Haiti with the primary purpose of making things better for the Haitians, but as a defender of the Monroe Doctrine. Marines were dispatched then to Port-au-Prince to protect the lives of foreigners after mobs had violated the French consulate. Such action was in pursuance of a fixed policy of American government which states that this nation has an interest in promoting tranquility and stability in the southern republics. An American protectorate was established by treaty and its benefits over a period of 14 years have been undisturbed, viewed objectively.
The treaty expires in 1936. After that there will have to be complete withdrawal, a midway policy or a continuation of the present treaty status. In the light of this forthcoming necessity, President Hoover has asked congress to approve the appointment of a commission to study conditions and suggest some clarification of American policy. It will be the duty of this commission to determine whether this country's efforts in Haiti are merely a generous but wasted gesture. Objections raised by senators that there is a commission on the ground at present are impertinent; if it has failed, it is better reason for the appointment of another.

Future policy, whatever it is, must conform to the Monroe Doctrine. If military control be abandoned, the United States must be prepared to intervene again should occasion arise. In any case, there should be a definite understanding before the termination of the protectorate.

Leading The Way

President Hoover's action in authorizing entrance of the United States into the Permanent Court of International Justice, marked by the signing of the articles of adherence at Berne, has been well received by the country at large. Its reception by the senate will be balked by Senators Borah, Johnson and Moses, who opposed it three years ago, but there are strong indications that the two-third vote necessary for ratification can be secured.
Once before in 1920, the United States minister at Berne signed the articles of adherence for this government, but the senate demanded reservations which the other nation members would not accept. In the light of this condition, Secretary Stimson said:
"The objections which caused the senate reservation have been met. Advisory opinions can no longer be a matter of secret procedure but must follow the forms and receive the safeguards of all formal proceedings in contentious cases. Whenever a dispute to which we are a party is involved, no opinion on that dispute can be rendered unless we consent."
It was the American delegates at the second Hague conference in 1907 who suggested that a permanent international tribunal, whose judges should devote themselves to its work be established. The United States has taken a prominent part in promoting judicial settlement of international disputes for the past fifty years. In 1899, the United States recommended establishment of the Permanent Court of Arbitration, which exists today and in which this country holds membership. In the light of this precedent and the growing sentiment for arbitration of disputes by judicial means, tangible expression of a cooperative attitude is imperative.
The United States is already a competent suitor to appear before the World court under the terms of the original charter. The only obligation which will be assumed is that demanded in the senate reservations—the right to pay a share of the expenses. The largest contribution by any state up to the present has not exceeded $35,000. This amount is expected to increase slightly.
The only change in status would be enjoyment of additional privileges; namely, the right to participate in the election of judges and the assurance that no amendment could be made without this country's consent.
Mr. Hoover has shown in this matter, as he has in the rehabilitation of business confidence, the ability to lead the way and to act wisely while others entangle the issue with muddled deliberation.

Other Editorial Opinions

A LESSON FOR LABOR
Henry Ford's willingness and ability to raise the wages of his huge army of operatives to the tune of $20,000,000 a year are not only a source of embarrassment to his fellow industrialists. They also put union labor in a hole, a service for which labor leaders are by no means grateful. But, as usually happens in a case of the kind, these leaders might, if they would, derive a salutary lesson from their discomfiture at his hands, a lesson which in the long run would do the cause they represent a world of good.
One reason why Mr. Ford is able to put his high wage philosophy into practice arises from his freedom from union dictation. Of course, it works the other way about, too. That is to say, his freedom from union dictation stems from his wage scale, which leaves his employees with no desire or incentive to organize. But the point is that in the displacement of labor with new machinery, in the matter of shop rules, of division of labor, of hiring and firing and so on, he is under none of the restrictions that waste time and money and hamper production in unionized plants. He can keep his mind on output and when the time comes adapt his wage scale to his profits.
It would be silly to assume that all or most industrialists, if left free like Mr. Ford to order their enterprises as they choose, would or could follow his example. Some though inefficiency and others through greed would maintain their wage scales at a minimum. His alacrity in keeping a jump ahead of union demands constitutes no valid argument against collective bargaining.
It does, however, shed a strong light on the economic exactions that have grown up under union dictation and which, in hampering industrial progress, defeat the union's objective. The fact that this autocrat can outbid in the wages he pays the best the unions could safely demand, because he need pay no attention to their rules, seems evidence enough that these rules need drastic revision in the interest of those whom they are supposed to serve.

Long or Short?

Fashion is certainly a fickle mistress! And as far as style is concerned, she sways her subjects with every passing breath. And Dan Cupid folds his arms and watches her that she does no harm to his subjects. Of course, they simply MUST be in style, else how can they hope to attract Dan and the Love and Romance which he brings?
True, there are some girls who run after fashion and obey her every mandate, regardless of whether it suits their type. These are the foolish ones. The wise ones look, heed and then adapt things to themselves that they may be in style, yet still be themselves. And these are the ones whom Dan doesn't worry over.
And now that it's long skirts or short—it's a weighty problem, but one which Love will solve eventually, for what's becoming is lovely; and what's more, love ever attracts Love. So why worry?

YOUR HEALTH

An Ounce of Prevention is Worth a Pound of Cure.

By Dr. Royal S. Copeland

Children should be taught to form good food habits. The time to undertake such teaching is when they are very young. They should be given the combinations of food that will provide the best nutrition possible for their growing years.
What we might call the many-sided foods are breadstuffs, meat, milk, fruits and vegetables. These contain the life-giving food elements, and, when combined properly, they form the ideal diet for the child, as well as for the adult.
One-sided foods, such as sweets, have their place in the diet, but they must be kept in their proper place, and supplied in proper quantity. Then they will not detract from the good effect derived from other and, perhaps, more nourishing foods.
Most children crave sweets. This is a natural craving, and should be considered in the diet of a child. However, the sweets must be taken in moderation. If eaten to excess candy and any other concentrated sweet is exceedingly harmful.
There are several food substances which must be included in the diet in proper combination if we are to maintain good health. They are the proteins, carbohydrates, including sugar and starches, the important mineral elements and the vitamins.
In breadstuffs we find our chief source of calories. But such foods lack two other needed elements, the minerals and vitamins.
Meats are just about as deficient in the two elements, minerals and vitamins. For this reason, breadstuffs and meat are not well combined for nutrition's sake, unless they are added to by using fruits and vegetables, thereby making up this deficiency.
Fruits and vegetables do contain much of the important mineral and vitamins which make them ideally suited to combine with either meat or breadstuffs. Dr. McCollum, the eminent nutritionist, has given fruits and vegetables the name of "protective foods." They serve to protect us from the deficiencies in the staple foods, such as bread and meats.
Milk is probably the most efficient food. It is also the most economical. It is ideal for the growing child. We might say the perfect diet for a child is bread and milk, built around by fruits and vegetables.
Sugar, that is, white sugar, must be classed as a one-sided food. It is deficient in proteins, mineral and vitamin content, so that when used in concentrated form, and to excess, it becomes an unwholesome food.
But children will continue to crave sweets, and this need can be met by combining some sweet such as jam or sweet desserts, in the meal. The serving of such sweets as jam and desserts will make a meal attractive for the child who will not usually eat the necessary foods without some sweets. In moderate amounts sweets can serve a useful purpose, but taken to excess they are distinctly harmful for the growing child, who needs all the nourishment he can get at this time of life.

NEW YORK DAY BY DAY

By O. O. McIntyre.

NEW YORK, Dec. 13.—Thoughts that will, after dropping five points, while strolling: Broadway movies with electric signs on all day. The batteries of phones in ticket agencies—one direct to each theater. Drooping piano thumpers in song sheet shops. Justine Johnson looks the same as ten years ago.
Hall-room-sized haberdasheries with bediamond proprietors. Tiny gown shops that rarely have a customer. And that umbrella renting shop that only does business on a rainy day. Charles Danton, the Beau Brummel of the dramatic critics, Major Bowes.
The Times Square "dog store" selling nothing but sandwiches and soda. Where do soft drink clerks go in the winter time? Glittering nut stores. You can usually spot an acrobat by his leather wrist supporter. Nothing so invigorating as the smell of pine.
The Indian who runs a chili parlor and has a sign: "Everything hot—but fire water." What became of canes with leather loop handles? Charles Hand, a reporter, who became secretary to Mayor Walker. Bobbie Arnesen who points if you spell it Bobbie. Sign on a reducing parlor: "The way of all flesh!"
Broadway's bloated and mocking cackle. Tweedy fellows in wide flat brogues. Who smoke comfortable pipes and saunter. Jack Baragwanath, Neysa McMen's husband. Tickless hospital clocks. A lone man looking at a ticker tape. An all white plush bath robe.
The weighty Latin inscriptions on university clubs. Rex Beach, an Atwood, Michigan, boy, who made good in the city. A Negro family with a limousine and liveried chauffeur. Maury Paul bounding along. Al Woods' cigar and tousled hair. Betty Compton.
What became of tete-tete chairs? Walter Huston—and about the best actor on the stage. Lillian Laury (The original Marion Fairfax). And she writes novels, too. That handsome boy who poses for the halitosis ads. Drake's restaurant—where women cannot smoke. And always crowded.

"THE LADY LIES" STATE FEATURE

Claudette Colbert, slender, brown-eyed beauty of stellar fame
in a number of Broadway productions, and Walter Huston, one of the outstanding stars of the legiti-mate stage in the past five years of Broadway theatrical history, are re-united in leading roles in the Paramount all-talking film success,
"The Lady Lies" which comes to the State theater Saturday.

In this production Huston is the handsome widower and Miss Colbert is the woman unwittingly responsible for his social downfall.
They first appeared in leading roles together in the tremendously popular stage play by George Abbott, "The Barker" which had a long run on Broadway.

Charles Ruggles, famed as one of the leading juvenile and elderly gentleman comedies of "the great white way" plays the comedy relief role in "The Lady Lies." He was first seen and heard in talking pictures in "Gentlemen of the Press" Paramount's play of newspaper life based on the stage success by Ward Morehouse.

IRENE BORDONI AT AMERICAN

"Paris," which comes to the American theater next week, not only brings Irene Bordoni, the French favorite, to the screen for the first time, but also marks the initial appearance on the talking picture sheet of her leading man, Jack Buchanan.

Buchanan is the idol of the British musical comedy stage. He has also been twice starred in New York in Charlot's Revue. He was chosen to play opposite Miss Bordoni because the role in that of an English musical favorite, and Buchanan is the outstanding star in that field. He is, in fact, the perfect type for the role.

"Paris" is the screen version of Miss Bordoni's latest and greatest stage success. It is a First National and Vitaphone all-dialogue picture with singing and dancing, and presents the French star in a typical Bordoni role—that of a French stage star.

The cast includes, in addition to Buchanan, Louise Closser Hale, who also played in the stage version of "Paris"; Jason Robards, stage and screen favorite who was

"UNTAMED" LISTS ALL-STAR CAST

Important film names are in the cast of "Untamed," the first Joan Crawford talking picture, which will open at the Ceramic theater Monday.

Robert Montgomery, one of Broadway's most brilliant young actors, comes to the lead after being featured in "So This Is College," his first talking film.

Ernest Torrence plays Joan's scheming Scotch guardian.
Holmes Herbert, Torrence's pal
in the picture, made a name for himself in "The Thirteenth Chair," and as Florio's friend in "Madame X."

Gwen Lee, beautiful blonde of M-G-M, has the greatest part of her career as "Marge," the "other girl."

People who saw Don Terry play
"Me Gangster" know him as a very capable young actor. In "Untamed," however, he engages with Montgomery in a fast moving fis-tle battle.

John Miljan follows dirty villains with dirtier ones.

Eddie Nugent is one of filmdom's most popular young comedians. He plays, "Paul," impromptu fight referee, in this story of modern young America.

Grace Cunard needs no introduction to the thousands who have seen her as the star of scores of serials. As "Millie" in the jungle sequences, as she has character

TAX CUT BILL ON SLATE IN SENATE TODAY

Administration Leaders Welcome Joseph R. Grundy.

DEBATE LOOMS

Nye Resolution Will
Be Rejected in End.

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON,
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13.—Administration leaders in the senate

today planned to lay aside the tax cut bill to consider tax reduction while welcoming Joseph R. Grundy, the new junior senator from Pennsylvania, into its midst.

Grundy was formally enrolled as a senator, but a resolution declaring him not entitled to retain his seat was pending before the senate committee on privileges and elections. It declared Grundy should be ousted because he contributed $10,000 to the campaign fund of Gov. John S. Fisher in that three million-dollar Pennsylvania primary of 1926. This was the primary in which William S. Vare won a senatorial nomination but in which he spent so much money
the senate finally refused to seat him.

The resolution, sponsored by Senator Nye (R.) of North Dakota, will be rejected in the end, since a majority of the senate has declared the appointing power of
Gov. Fisher cannot be questioned.
It will serve, however, as a foil for debate in the future over Grundy's appointment by Fisher, a debate which raged for three hours in the senate yesterday before the oath was administered to the senator-designate.

FINISHERS WIN FROM CHAMPS
Beat Cokes in Midland Circuit;
Open Hearths Triumph Over Service Five.
Open Hearth trounced Service, 36 to 24, last night in the Midland Crucible Steel circuit but the Finishers provided the big event of the night's program as they topped the Coke plant, last year's champions, 29 to 10, lead by Earl Zook, former Bethany court star. Addition of Zook to the Finishers' lineup gave the winners a six-foot lineup and also added the spark which was needed to set the quint going. Zook's shooting and passing were outstanding. Ammon and Ungethumb performed up to the handle also. The Cokers went without a field goal until the third period. Staley dropped in one from long range. Wyant played a good floor game but was unable to get his eye on the bucket.
Glumac, Slater and Black led the Hearths to their triumph. Betteridge led the Servers, accounting for 12 of their 24 points. The basketball program was followed by a dance.

WOMAN, 65, ILL, KILLS HERSELF

Distant Relative of Commander Byrd is Found Shot in Washington Home.

By International News Service. WASHINGTON, Dec. 13.—Mrs. Caroline Van Antwerp Byrd, 65, said to be a distant relative of Commander Richard E. Byrd, Arctic flier, was found today, having fired a bullet through her head.

Clad in her best dress she was found by her son, Harry B. Byrd, Jr., real estate operator and former naval officer, in the basement of their home last night.

On a bureau was a note reading, "My dear son, I am in great pain and can endure it no longer. Forgive your mother."

Byrd said his mother has been despondent recently but seemed cheerful when he left for work.

Police said Harry B. Byrd, Sr., the husband and father, had killed himself some years ago. He had been connected with a local financial institution.

CHESTER GRID SQUAD NAMES 1930 CAPTAIN

Robert. Caughey is Honored at Annual Banquet.

240 AT FETE

William Amos, W. & J. Coach, Gives Football Talk.

CHESTER—Election of Robert Caughey, star half on this year's Chester high school football team, featured the grid banquet given by the Purple and Gold club last night in the Masonic temple, First street. More than 240 were present.

William Amos, head coach at Washington and Jefferson college, and an All-American player in 1927, was the principal speaker. He stressed the fact that victory is not the main reason that the game is played but because football builds up the American youth in character, strength and health. He pointed out that the game teaches the players sportsmanship and team work. He lauded the Chester team's fighting spirit in the face of defeat. Describing the early history of football, he gave examples of famous games.

Short addresses were given by Earl Jackson, president of the club, who introduced the toastmaster, R. A. Douglass.

Douglass presented a silver football to Carl Hamill, coach of the Weirton high school team, winners of the Hancock county football championship for 1929. This trophy is to remain in the winners' hands for one year and then turned over to the next year's champions.

Brief talks were given by Superintendent A. L. Rabenstein, Coach Paul Keighley, Captain Richard Brown, Captain-elect Robert Caughey, and Maury Rush, star half-back on the Washington and Jefferson college team this year, who accompanied Amos to the banquet.

A pocketbook set was presented by Captain Brown to Coach Keighley in behalf of the team and a silver coffee set was given him by Toastmaster Douglass, representing the Purple and Gold club. Dancing after the program was in charge of the Chester high school orchestra under the direction of Professor Howard Cochran. Eastern Star lodge served the banquet.

OBITUARY

Thomas Smooth MIDLAND—The body of Thomas Smooth, 39, colored, who died yesterday morning at his home, 336 Penn avenue, after a long illness, was sent today to Wilsonville, Ala., for burial.

Mr. Smooth, who was employed by the Pittsburgh Crucible Steel company plant here, leaves his widow.

Mrs. Lillie May Watson. WELLSVILLE—The funeral of Mrs. Lillie May Watson, wife of E. E. Watson, was held today in the home of her son, Edison Watson, of Wells avenue, in charge of the Rev. J. H. Butler, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church. Burial was made in Mount Zion cemetery, near Minerva.

CHESTER—Funeral of Mrs. B. B. Cox, who died Wednesday night, will be held in the First Christian church tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock, in charge of the Rev. L. A. Britton, pastor. Burial will be made in the Locust Hill cemetery.

The family requests that friends view the body from 7 to 9 o'clock tonight in the home in First street.

Mrs. Sarah Steele. LISBON—Funeral of Mrs. Sarah Steele, 79, widow of William Steele, who died Thursday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Sina Atterholt, on the Lisbon-Leetonia road, will be held at 2 p. m., tomorrow, in charge of the Rev. C. A. Robb, rector of the Salem Episcopal church.

Mrs. Steele, who was born in London, England, had lived in Lisbon and vicinity for 56 years.

Puts Neuritis Out Of Business

Many Swear By ORANGE ROOT as Only Relief From Neuritis Torture.

Mr. O. H. Wade, 222 S. Centre st., Cumberland, Md., says: "I suffered from neuritis and rheumatism so bad it was impossible to raise my arms above my shoulders."

I tried a number of so-called tonics supposed to be beneficial for my ailments, but the only results obtained was a disordered stomach. They put my stomach in a very bad condition, and left me weak, nervous, and unable to eat a thing. All the time neuritis and rheumatism kept me in constant misery. The pains in my shoulder were so sharp and piercing that I could not get a minutes' rest or even sleep at night on account of the awful suffering.

Liniments only tended to chase the pains to my arms, back and limbs.

My strength left me entirely, and I just felt gloomy and miserable day in and day out. Friends who had taken this ORANGE ROOT with good results advised me to try it. I can now truthfully say that it is the only thing I ever took that gave me glorious and INSTANT relief from all my suffering and rid me forever from my miseries. Two bottles not only drove out all the neuritis and rheumatism, but toned up and strengthened my delicate stomach. The Golden Nuggets keep my bowels open and my liver in fine working order. They do not gripe, cause any bad after effects, but keep me FREE of any accumulation of intestinal poisons. My whole system seems invigorated and built up, for I now have a dandy appetite, eat anything and everything seems to agree with me. The tonic qualities of ORANGE ROOT are superior to anything I ever heard of, and I gladly recommend them to my friends suffering as I did.

These nationally known remedies are for sale here by MATHEWS MEDICINE STORE and all the best druggists everywhere. INSIST upon ORANGE ROOT—accept nothing else recommended as "just as good." If your local druggist cannot supply you, write direct to the H. & J. Laboratories, Park ersburg, W. Va.

LISBON—Mrs. Maria Cope, 95, widow of John Cope, died yesterday in the home of her daughter, Mrs. Alice F. Reed of Canton hill. Mrs. Cope was born near New Franklin. She came to Lisbon nine years ago.

She leaves one son, Ira N. Cope and another daughter, Mrs. Mary E. Dickey, of Lisbon.

Funeral will be held at 2 o'clock

Sunday afternoon in the Ellis funeral home. Burial will be made in the Fairfield cemetery.

Thieves Get Stock Certificates.

By International News Service. CLEVELAND, Dec. 13.—Police search was under way here today for thieves who last night ram-raided the Garfield Heights home of Joseph W. Cherny, general passenger agent of the Missouri and Pacific railroad here, and escaped with $2,400 in stock certificates, $10,000 in life insurance policies and five bank books.

Bandits Kidnap, Rob Autoist. By International News Service.

DAYTON, O., Dec. 13.—Search is now under way here today for two youthful bandits, who, according to J. P. Gilmore, 55, kidnaped him in his automobile, robbed him of $460 and his car, afterwards leaving him bound to a stump along a lonely road, near here. Gilmore said he managed to work free of his bonds.

Proposed improvement of the Wey River, in England, would cost $1,200,000.

BOMB BLAST WRECKS PORCH

Racketeers in Kosher Meat War Are Blamed for Explosion in Cleveland.

By International News Service. CLEVELAND, Dec. 13.—A bomb explosion early today ripped off the front porch of the home of Benjamin Cohen, supervisor and investigator of the Kosher meat department of Swift & Co's plant here. Racketeers in a Kosher meat war are believed responsible for the blast. Cohen told police that his life has been threatened on several occasions by enemies who demanded he raise the price of Kosher beef.

QUIT ATLANTA, FACE JAIL TERM

Former Ohio Dry Agents Must Serve Out Fines They Failed to Pay.

By International News Service. COLUMBUS, O., Dec. 13.—Carl Seltzer and Frank Mullins, former state prohibition agents and alleged "hijackers," who were recently released from the Atlanta federal penitentiary after serving 21 months on a liquor conspiracy charge, will be forced to serve at least a 30-day term in the Franklin county jail, according to federal authorities here today.

When the men were sentenced, they were fined $500 each. They allegedly have failed to pay the fine and must serve it out in jail. After being confined 30 days, the two can take a pauper's oath and be released.

Mullins and Seltzer attracted state-wide attention when they were arrested for allegedly "hijacking" an automobile load of liquor which was reported to have been enroute from Cleveland to Columbus.

They were convicted and sentenced to jail by Federal Judge Benson W. Hough.

FIRE MARSHAL WARNS AGAINST YULE HAZARDS

Prevent Loss of Life And Property, He Urges.

CANDLES BANNED

Danger Cited; Santa Should Avoid In-
flammables.

COLUMBUS, O., Dec. 13.—A warning against fire hazards, which are always more pronounced at the Christmas season, was issued today by Ray R. Gill, state fire marshal, in an effort to prevent loss of life and property during the holiday period. "Christmas displays and Christmas entertainments always attract the fire fiend," said Gill, "and he lurks in Christmas crowds."

He issued his warning in the form of "don'ts" as follows:

Don't use lighted candles. Employ electric light bulbs instead. Don't hang paper or inflammable material on wires or around lights.

Don't use cotton batting for decorations; use mineral wool instead.

Don't use inflammable material for gowns. Everything used in Christmas decorations and costumes should be of non-inflammable solutions.

Use only non-inflammable films in motion pictures.

Don't place the Christmas tree or other decorations near an open fire.

Don't smoke in stores or around the Christmas tree in the home.

Gill called upon Santa Claus to distribute toys made only of materials that will not readily ignite.

The first report of a Christmas fire came to Fire Marshal Gill this week from a town in southern Ohio, where a blaze had started in Christmas decorations in a window. In this connection Fire Marshal Gill pointed out that enclosed windows in which lights are burning become hot and means for ventilation should be provided.

A system of 12 national arterial highways has been proposed for Ohio.

MIDLAND HIGH GRIDDERS HEAR ALL-AMERICAN

Harpster is Speaker at Rotary Club Banquet.

COURAGE URGED

Football Trains Boy To Meet World He Says.

MIDLAND.—"Ability, loyalty and courage, and the greatest of the three is courage, are the fundamentals of the game of football which each year trains thousands of boys to meet the world and entertain thousands of sports fans," said Howard Harpster, coach of Shadyside academy, Pittsburgh, former Carnegie Tech star and quarterback of the 1928 all-American football team, in an address at a Rotary club banquet in the First Presbyterian church last night. Members of the Lincoln high school football team were guests of honor.

Faculty Managers Guests.

Forty varsity and reserve team members, Faculty Manager W. A. Wuschinski, Student Managers George Fulmer and Joseph Rogers, and the male members of the high school faculty attended.

Harpster cited many instances where courage meant the larger portion of the game and where loyalty and ability were only secondary unless combined with courage.

"Co-operation of the eleven men on the gridiron alone can win a battle," he said. "Let the line make a hole in the opponents' defense and the backfield could carry the ball through on crutches." Stories of famous coaches and experiences of his own were related by Harpster.

Coach Thanks Club.

Robert Lloyd, president of Rotary introduced Coach W. P. Leonard who expressed the appreciation of the team for the "interest manifested by the local and neighboring football fans in this season's schedule and the spirit of this service club which has honored us with this banquet."

O. L. Pringle, Rotarian, in a short address commented on the relationship of the service club to the boys and the willingness of the members to assist in the boys' welfare.

High School Principal R. E. Boyles read the names of the 17 boys who will receive athletic letters for 1929 football.

Attorney E. M. Wallover in speaking of the interests shown by the club compared it to a human being extending three helping hands to the young men of the community. "One would be to pat the boy on the back for achievements, the second would be ready to pull him back to a higher level if he fell below a certain average and the third would be to guide or advise the lad in choosing the easier course in life," Wallover said.

Superintendent H. V. Herlinger briefly pictured a boy's changing appearance during high school years. Music for the occasion was furnished by Scelp and Spencer, banjo and accordion artists. The Queen Esther class of the church served the dinner.

Distribution Decree Entered.

LISBON.—A sale has been confirmed, a deed ordered and a decree of distribution entered in the foreclosure action filed by the Federal Building & Loan Company against George C. Lutton and others of East Liverpool.

The injunction petition filed by Pauline Nasse against the county commissioners has been dismissed by the plaintiff who sought an order preventing the construction of a new road between the Beaver bridge on the Lincoln highway and the tracks of the Pittsburgh, Lisbon and Western railroad.

PENSION PLAN DINNER TOPIC

Representatives of Official Boards of County Christian Churches Meet in Lisbon.

LISBON.—Representatives of official boards of the denomination in other cities of the county will meet at the Christian church, tonight to discuss plans for the advancement of the ministers' retirement pension fund.

Attorney L. P. Metzger of Salem is in charge of this work in Columbiana county.

COUNCIL SEAT RULING SOUGHT FROM KNEPPER

Certificate to Grafton Awaits Solicitor's Approval.

BALLOT FIGHT

New Council to Determine Vote Recount Method.

WELLSVILLE.—City Auditor Fred H. Eckfeld, who is entrusted with the duty of issuing certificates to candidates elected to city and township offices at the election on November 5, today announced that he will be guided by the advice of City Solicitor Raymond Knepper in issuing a certificate in the matter of the disputed councilmanic seat from the second ward where Charles S. Peters, Republican, is contesting the election of John Grafton, Democrat, who on the face of the returns was chosen to the office by one vote.

Eckfeld's decision was made after he had been notified by the clerk of the Columbiana county board of deputy supervisors of elections that every aspirant for office in city and township had filed his expense account as provided by law with the board. He also took the matter up with officials of the board and was advised to seek the opinion of the solicitor.

Method of counting the ballots in two precincts will be determined at the first meeting of the new body which will be held on Tuesday night, January 7.

WITTENBERG SOLID IN WITHDRAWAL ACTION

Faculty, Students In Accord

Lutherans Can Get Along Outside of "Big Five."

By JACK VINCENT, International News Service Staff Correspondent.

SPRINGFIELD, O., Dec. 13.—Today, Friday the thirteenth, is just as good a day as any to sketch a word picture of Wittenberg's swan song to the 1929 football season.

In fact, it is even appropriate, seeing as how the annual football banquet was held in staid Ferncliff hall on the campus here last night.

William "Bill" Edwards, the Lutheran's captain, was the first time in 39 years that a junior captain was chosen to succeed himself as leader in his senior year.

Those persons who are inclined to think of Wittenberg as being unlucky because it was forced from the Buckeye Athletic association, are all wrong. Its action in withdrawing molded the student body and faculty into one solid and loyal body which will fight all the harder for the success of their team.

There is only one universal regret here and that is, that the Lutherans will no longer meet the Battling Bishops of Ohio Wesleyan. The Wesleyan tilt formerly was the biggest game of the season for Wittenberg.

Hint Bishops May Leave.

At the banquet last night, no mention was made of Wittenberg's withdrawal from the now "big five." Reports here, however, are predicting the gradual disbandment of the Buckeye conference, and Ohio Wesleyan, it is said, may be the first one to drop from that league.

Again, there is another possibility. Ohio university may grow too strong for the Buckeye crowd and seek more fertile fields for its football talent elsewhere.

Those are only rumors and may be just backfires, but as there is no feeling of anger here against the members of the "big five" there would be no reason for starting such reports.

Dinners were served to approximately 150 people last night, including the varsity and freshmen teams and guests.

Lee Hawley, former Dartmouth coach, was the speaker of the evening and he told of old traditions of the small but select eastern school "where the gymnasium is larger than the library." That last is no longer the truth following the construction of a $1,000,000 library at Dartmouth, but the manover, New Hampshire school is often referred to as that.

Stobbs Ends Good Year.

Coach William Stobbs, former Washington & Jefferson all-American, addressed his players briefly. Stobbs isn't much of a public speaker but as a coach he is there, all students here readily testify. Stobbs completed his first year as coach of the Lutherans and even the Springfield "down-town" coaches admit he completed a successful season.

Stobbs will have a lot of his regulars back next year and he hopes to have a good team.

Letters were awarded to 17 players. Besides Captain Edwards, the players who were thus honored, include:

Charles Deitz, of Lorain; Norman Harris, William Price and Merle Singer, of Massillon; Ted Marty, of Akron; Ike Truby, of Dover; Jack Zarna, of Youngstown; Stanley Plummer, of Coshocton; and Willis Harre, of Toledo.

With the football season now passed, the task of carrying on the honor and glory of Wittenberg falls on the shoulders of Joe Herman, basketball coach, and former Mt. Union quarterback and forward. "Joe," nearly every one calls him that here, predicted that his quietest would be "fair."

Peabody Cuts Canton Cage Squad to 14

M'Kinley Mentor Picks Up Carter's Reserves.

CANTON, O., Dec. 12.—Launching strenuous grinds in preparation for the opening game of the season at Salem Friday night, Coach Dwight Peabody has cut his McKinley high varsity basketball squad to 14 men, with a possibility that two more will be dropped before the end of the week. Those Bulldogs who are still on the eligible list follow: R. Schreiber, E. Schreiber, Odum, Black, George, Forsythe, Gerber, Hinton, Rich, Hartsel, Frizzell, Davis, Fehn and Swihart.

The mentor, what with interclass games and limited facilities of other natures, has had such short time in which to work out a regular varsity combination that it seems probable Carter's starting reserve line-up of last season for the opening game. That would mean that R. Schreiber and Odum at the forwards, Forsythe at center and Black and George at the guards.

The squad has been practicing every day since a week ago last Monday and has scrimmaged on one or two occasions. The Salem game, while it is not the toughest on the schedule, by any means, stacks up as being a hard one for the season's opener.

The Quakers have about six let-

Babe Herman to Get Early Start On Hitting Campaign

Brooklyn Slugging Star is Not Worrying About Mid-winter Trades.

NEW YORK, Dec. 13.—Just like the other "big shots" in his league, Floyd (Babe) Herman of the Brooklyn Robins has no particular interest in all the fuss being stirred up at present over baseball congregations and possible swaps, for Babe Herman has become an "institution" in the outfield of the Dodgers, and there is not a chance in the world that that lanky blond will be involved in a trade this winter.

The Babe knows he is sitting pretty at the current moment and a substantial raise in the old pay envelope will bear him out in that belief. In the Babe's estimation, however, the pride of the Hermans won't be sitting as pretty next year if he doesn't succeed in coping that batting record. Herman's heart was set on it last season but after attaining his goal for most of the year he slumped atrociously during the latter part of the campaign and allowed the slugging fool of the Phils, "Lefty" O'Doul, to forge far ahead of him.

To Start Over.

Beginning next April, though, Herman is going to open up again full blast with the hopes that a year from today may find him really at the top of the baseball world.

Reaching the pinnacle of the diamond realm was not always uppermost in the Babe's mind but he realizes that if he doesn't continue banging that onion for the next few years, especially, he probably will never fulfill his ambitions—ambitions that were almost ruthlessly jarred into oblivion in 1925 when the Babe was declared a total bust. It all happened when Brooklyn, rejoicing over their acquisition of one Johnny Butler,

BOBCATS' GRID CARD FILLING

Proposed Game With Ohio State Fails to Materialize.

ATHENS, Dec. 13.—Four traditional Buckeye association games, two games with leading teams of the Ohio conference and the annual early season battle with West Liberty, West Virginia, were contained on the 1930 Ohio university football schedule announced here today.

Two early dates are yet to be filled for the Bobcats, with efforts being made to schedule well known out of state foes. One of the open dates, October 4, was created when Ohio State university announced it impossible to schedule with the undefeated Bobcats. The date had been held in reserve for the Buckeyes, depositing opportunity to schedule games with other leading teams.

Ohio will resume athletic relations with Western Reserve next season when they meet the Red Cats at Cleveland, Oct. 18. Muskingum, this year's Ohio conference champions whom the Bobcats defeated, 59 to 0, will come to Athens next year for a return game.

The high spot of the season is the annual game with Ohio Wesleyan on Nov. 22, the last game of the year. The contest will be played at Delaware.

ter men on their team and with the advantage of playing on their own floor, should have at least an even chance to overthrow the Bulldogs.

Although the reserve schedule does not open until Dec. 20 with the Akron West reserves here, Carter has his team about ready for competition. His first string line-up consists of Clark and Robinson at the forwards, Cross at center and Hodnick and Sanderson at the guards.

He has a second team, composed of sophomores, that is almost as tough as the first, and with a little more experience should develop into a good varsity in two more years.

Potters' System Varies

Employ Cage Tactics To Fit Situations.

WHAT'LL it be—zone system, five man or man-to-man? Some basketball coaches argue with themselves as to the proper system and others have definite, fixed ideas as to whether their squad will be more effective playing one way than the other.

Advantages and disadvantages can be chalked up for and against any single method.

Coach Earl Zook, who trots out his East Liverpool high school basketball team tonight on the auditorium court here in their first game of the 1929-30 campaign, with Bethany high furnishing the opposition, plans to use a combination of systems, and, on the surface, the idea, while not new by any means, at least should prove effective.

Situations will govern the conduct of the Potters' squad on the court.

In other words, their system of attack or defense will depend upon, chiefly, the score, and the floor itself.

A large floor naturally will call for a man-to-man method and this system, it appears, will be used largely throughout the season.

On a small floor, the five-man defense method is favored of course—but only to a certain limit. And that limit, in the opinion of the Blue and White mentor, is reached when the other team has more points.

A five-man defense, when the opposition has the lead, appears to the average fan as the height of absurdity. If the margin is small, two or three points, say, and the game is still young, a five-man defense, if the enemy has a good passing combination and a short shot "shark" under the basket, might be all right. But only for the time being. As the game goes into its final stages, the trailing team can not hope to forge ahead by defense tactics of that nature.

They've got to get the ball before they can hope to get points and after all, points, whether they are the result of beautifully and artistically executed pass work, or just lucky pots from all sections of the floor, determine to pay-off.

So, in Zook's plan as he outlined today, the Potters will adjust themselves to cope with every problem as it arises. No cut and dried method will be adhered to when it robs the team of efficiency.

Every indication points to a large fan turnout for the Blue and White squad's 1929 cage bow. And with the reserved seat capacity increased, better accommodations will be provided for the ticket holders.

Members of the competing squads along with officials will occupy "dugouts" on the alley side of the gymnasium. Additional reserved seats have also been placed along this side of the court.

More than 300 seats have been provided on the opposite side by installation of the football bleachers from Patterson field.

Seats in the balcony sections, formerly reserved, will be sold at general admission rates on a first-come-first-served basis.

Salem High School Reserves and the Potter Reserves open the cage season tonight in a preliminary encounter at 7:30 o'clock. The main event goes on at 8. Jack Patton of Steubenville will referee.

In the meantime, East Liverpool girls will launch their campaign in a game with Salem girls on the Quaker City court.

Two Midland Gridders On All Star Team

Jakes, End and Spesak, Half Win Mythical Honors.

MIDLAND—Jakes, end, and Spesak, halfback, today were awarded places on the All Beaver County mythical football team for the 1929 campaign. The all-star eleven was selected by coaches of county schools.

Five Rochester players, two from Ellwood City and two from Aliquippa, in addition to the Steel City stars, were picked for the first squad.

Jermanovich, Midland tackle, was named on the second team.

The Beaver county selections follow:

Youngstown Lightweight Slated For Battle Dec. 20 in Erie Ring.

YOUNGSTOWN, Dec. 13.—Johnny Kusic, local lightweight, has been signed to meet Joe Goodman, Cleveland, in one of the three 10-round feature bouts to be staged at Erie Dec. 20 by the Elks of that place for the benefit of the kiddies' better Christmas. The articles originally called for Kusic to meet Maxie Strub, but the latter asked to be excused from the assignment, whereupon the promoters signed Goodman. Kusic is working out of the Booker T. Ormes' Passers Hang up 26-18 Win To Capture Series With Lodge Foes.

Ormes' Barbers triumphed over the Colored Elks 26 to 18, last night on the Chester auditorium court, copping their second straight from their rivals.

Vanaman and Dave Felt starred for the Barbers, this combination working consistently under the basket for field goals.

The victory was the fifth straight for the Barbers who are scheduled to play "Chuck" Kimes' team next Thursday night in the Chester court.

AUTHOR, STRANDED IN DESERT, WINS BATTLE WITH ELEMENTS

Caravan Reaches
"Oued" and Water
Hole After Wandering
Two Days.

By DAVID P. SENTNER.

NEW YORK.—Lost in the dreaded Sahara Desert for a week, Engels Wright, 25-year-old author and traveler, reveals his victorious battle against thirst and a blinding sand storm in a letter to his parents from Belima.

"My Dear Family," he writes,
"Thank God we have arrived here at this dry stream bed. There is only dry heat and shriveled trees,
but they are beautiful things to us.
The camels are settled down, too tired and worn out to eat. They are mere skeletons of their former selves, and will surely die if we do not find water for them tomorrow."

"It is already five days since they have drunk water and two days since they have eaten. Ahmed and I have only about two quarts of water left. But we have arrived here and will reach a well tomorrow noon. It may be filled with sand but at least we can dig for water."

"Last night I thought all was over for we were lost. Two days previous we had awakened to find ourselves enveloped in a great dust storm of fine sand that practically hid us from one another. But we had to keep on because we had to find water, and could gain nothing
by remaining quiet."

"The sun came up like a young leaf, pale and lifeless; the day was like a stormy moonlight night, but worse as there were no stars to guide us. At noon, the Tonaregs admitted that they were lost."

"At night we had missed the
'Oued' where we should have stopped, and had marched 17 hours.
The next day we marched another 17 hours due south. Not a blade of grass. Only rocks and sand and we could not see more than a quarter of a mile in any direction."

"That night the Tonaregs and my guide prayed for hours and put on their festive clothes. They were preparing for the end but the Arabs take death very calmly.

They say: 'Thousands have died in the desert before us.' We had only two full water skins among us, seven in all, and in this terrific heat a man will die of thirst in three or four hours if he does not drink water."

"But it is all over now. The day dawned clear and after a fifteen hour march we found this pasturage and the Tonaregs say there is a well about five hours away."

"From here on we have water every two or three days, and at intervals five days further on, we will find pools and streams of water and great valleys with tropical vegetation."

Young Wright is the author of the "Great Horn Spoon."

EXTRA CLERKS HANDLE RUSH IN YULE MAIL

Carriers and Parcel Post Aides Get Places.

CLEAR FLOORS

Dec. 18 Deadline
For Cards, is Warning.

Ten extra clerks, carriers and parcel post workers will be required to handle holiday mail which is expected to pass through the East Liverpool postoffice next week.

Postal aides for holiday work must be selected from the list of eligibles who have passed the civil service examination. Two or three

LEAD TAX PARADE IN WASHINGTON

Completing arrangements for the monster tax reduction parade which will be staged in Washington for the purpose of carrying to the capitol a collection of petitions bearing the signatures of several million people who favor a slash in taxes and surtaxes on earned incomes. The leaders of the project who are pictured above are: Major Joseph Caccavajo, of New York; Isaac Gans, grand marshal of the parade; Representative Sol Bloom, of New York, and Police Inspector E. W. Brown.

extra carriers, the same number of clerks and about four helpers on the two parcel post trucks will be employed. Postmaster John T.
Wood said.

The Yule mail is already becoming heavy. The real rush is expected to start early next week.

The floors of the postoffice will be cleared each night. Carriers will make Saturday afternoon deliveries on December 14 and 21, but there will be no work other than necessary on Sunday. With the exception of special delivery workers and a few window clerks who will be on duty for a short period during the forenoon, there will be no work at the postoffice on Christmas day.

Christmas cards intended for delivery at distant points should be mailed not later than December 18. Postmaster Wood warned.

Cards for delivery in East Liverpool, or in one day's travel, should

Owa-Ton-Na Halts Indigestion, Now Enjoys Food

Nervous, Tired, Worn Out Condition Also Responds To This Natural Remedy.

Another of Owa-Ton-Na's many endorses is Mr. W. L. McKinley, Penn avenue, Chester, W. Va., who says: "For the past ten years I have been suffering with various disorders which did not seem to respond to medicines and treatments I have used. Indigestion was one of my great troubles. Constipation always seemed to trouble me, yet laxatives didn't seem to do me any good." Right along this condition was getting worse.

"It certainly is a relief to get rid of those gas and bloating spells. Now I can eat almost anything that I want to and there certainly has been an improvement in my appetite. Where before I didn't seem to care whether I ate or not, I can now hardly wait until meal time and everything tastes so good. My bowels are now acting normally, headaches are a thing of the past and food doesn't distress me at all."

"I go to bed at night and sleep like a baby, getting up in the morning feeling like a new man. My results were so good from the Indian Remedy, Owa-Ton-Na, I know that from now on I am going to be a real Owa-Ton-Na booster. My advice to anyone who is suffering from the conditions for which it is recommended is that they try it now and I know they will be just as well pleased as I am."

You, too, may find in Owa-Ton-Na just the remedy you have been looking for. Why not call today and obtain a bottle for yourself?

Owa-Ton-Na is sold in East Liverpool at Carnahan's 114 East Sixth street, and East End stores. It is also obtainable in Newell, W. Va., at Carnahan's Drug Store.—Adv.

THEATER AIDE CARVES HOUSE FROM POPLAR

W. H. Green's Art Display in Frame of Flowers.

EIGHT-YEAR JOB

After eight years, William Hazen Green, former Newell carpenter, now employed at the State theater, has just completed another piece of wood-carving which will be placed on display in the show window of Moninger Brothers' furniture store, St. Clair avenue, tomorrow.

The display includes a miniature house, made on a scale of one inch to a foot, and an artistic picture frame which was carved from a solid piece of poplar. The frame shows calla lilies, roses in bloom and a few in the bud, grapes, snowberries, forget-me-nots, day lilies, daisies and creeping ivy and the inscription "Merry Christmas 1929," all carved in bas-relief.

"Sermon in Wood" Shown.

Inside the frame a carving which Green completed in 1921 and which he considered his masterpiece in wood work. This has been termed a "Sermon in Wood." It is four feet high, three feet four inches wide and 15 inches in depth. On the main panel is carved in bas-relief the figure of a woman who is kneeling at the foot of a cross. Her hands are raised in supplication as she sees in the distance the star of hope, the golden crown and the gates ajar. Near her feet at the foot of the cross is growing the Passion flower and the flower called the Star of Bethlehem. There also are calla lilies, hyacinths and a cluster of wild roses.

Clematis Entwines Column.
The center panel and the entablature is supported by two Doric columns. Entwined around the left column, carved in relief, is the familiar clematis in full bloom, while on the right is carved the creeping ivy.

The ground work of these columns is worked out in a fairy-like tracery as fine as a winter's frost upon a window pane or as delicate as a summer's dew upon a spider web. Extending between the columns as if to partly shut out the view of the grove in which the cross stands is a stone wall against which is growing a mass of Scottish blue bells, while at the base of the wall behind a trellis are clumps of ferns which have been carved from dark poplar wood.

At the right side near the end of the wall, steps leading into the grove. At each side of the steps is a post supporting the balusters on top of which is a small urn filled with pansies and other flowers. At the left of the entrance is a cluster of forget-me-nots, while nearby stands a bird bath on the rim of which is perched a bird in listening posture. There is another bird sitting on the coping of the wall in the same attitude while a third has alighted on an ivy branch. The bird, like the two others is looking on rapt attention toward the woman who is praying in front of the cross. The point which Green seeks to bring out here is that the woman was so engrossed in prayer that she has prayed aloud and the birds are listening in silent awe.

Fruit is Represented.
The carving on the entablature consists of two large cornucopias from which an abundance of fruits and flowers are represented as issuing. There are strawberries,

Marching On Congress With Tax Plea

Baskets filled with tax reduction petitions gathered throughout the United States being turned over to congress on the steps of the capitol by a committee of notables including Judge Black of New York, former Mayor John J. Hyland of New York, Mae Murray, screen star, Anna Fitzgibbon, opera star, and Isaac Gans of Washington. The presentation took place after a colorful parade, headed by delegations from various veterans' organizations. Left to right: Judge Black, Isaac Gans, Senator Smoot, Representative Hawley, Representative Sol Bloom, Representative Welch and Representative Swing.

plums, apples, grapes, cherries and sapodilla which grows along the east coast of Florida and in the Bahama Islands.

Between the cornucopias is a hanging basket which forms the centerpiece of the work and which contains a variety of flowers which grow in tropical and sub-tropical countries. Here is to be found the French rivoire collarette dahlia which is noted for its peculiar color or scheme. The color in this flower is worked out with natural poplar wood.

In the center of the hanging basket is a large Columbia rose, whose beauty has attracted a butterfly which has alighted on the petals and is searching for the tiny drop of dew nestling in the heart of the rose. Underneath the basket, as if it had fallen in front of it, is a branch of the American beauty rose, the branches and stems of which are studded with thorns.

CORPORATIONS LOSE CHARTERS

More Than 90,000 Business Houses In Empire State Fail to File Tax Returns.

ALBANY—Approximately 90,000 business corporations in New York State will lose their charters during December because of failure to file an annual franchise tax return during the last five years.

Secretary of State Edward J. Flynn said:

"The wiping out of these companies will not only serve to rid the file in the corporation bureau of much deadwood, but at the same time the way will be opened for the use of tens of thousands of names, many particularly well adapted to various lines of business, but which have been tied up for years even though the company was inactive."

ANNIE LAURIE'S TIMELY ADVICE

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:
I am a girl 17 years of age and am in love with a boy about two years my junior. I have tried to forget him but have not found it possible.
I have known this boy about two years. He says he cares a great deal for me and I love him. We were both in an institution and when I left there we made each other a promise that we would not go with anybody else. We are not in a position where we can go together but as far as I'm concerned, no other boy holds any attraction for me, and he feels the same way about other girls. Neither one of us have broken our promise and both swear that we will not.

What should I do? Should I force myself to go with other boys and break that promise or what? But a promise is a promise in every case.
L. E. W.

L. E. W.: Why are you taking an ordinary boy-and-girl friendship so seriously? Surely you do not believe that there can be a love affair between a boy of 15 and a girl of 17. Of course, go out with parties that include members of the opposite sex. There is pleasure and happiness in pleasant companionship, and it will help you to come to a more sensible frame of mind.

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:
1. Please describe the style of evening gowns, formal and informal, now worn by girls. What length are the dresses?
2. Is it considered proper to go swimming with the opposite sex of your own age?
3. During an introduction is it proper to shake hands? If so, which should offer their hand first, the boy or the girl?
4. If a girl is going steadily with a fellow, is it proper to exchange rings or pins and the like? Also, if she is going steadily is it all right to date other boys?

MEE DEE: Simple gowns of velvet, moire taffeta and chiffon in white, dahlia, certain shades of red and of course, black are in vogue. All around ankle-length is both becoming and practical, as trained skirts interfere with dancing. As to your other questions—A handshake is generally exchanged during an introduction. It is a mutual affair, but the lady offers her hand first to indicate that she wishes to shake hands. Of course, if there is an understanding, it is quite proper for you to exchange pleasant little gifts such as books, handkerchiefs and similar trifles. An exchange of jewelry is not in good taste. And if there is an understanding, why make dates with other young men?

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:
I am a boy in my late teens. This summer I met a girl working in an act at a theater. When she left I wrote her a letter and she answered it. In this way we wrote for about five weeks. One day I received a letter saying that she was sorry, but she didn't think we were well enough acquainted to continue our correspondence. Not believing this to be the real reason for our not writing, I wrote to her girl friend and asked her to tell me the reason for her not wanting to write. She answered saying that this girl's mother did not want her to have anything to do with boys while she was on the road or she would not let her continue with the stage.

She also said this girl liked me and did not want her folks to know she had been writing to me, because they would take her off the stage. She said to wait until they were on the road again and then write her. Now do you think I should do this? I like her very much and would like to continue writing to her.

Please tell me what you would think.
W. M. J.
W. M. J.: Surely you would not be a party to the young lady disobeying the wishes of her mother, and perhaps interfering with her career. She chooses to heed her mother, and so why not help her play the game by refraining from communicating with her until she gives you permission?

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:
I am a girl nearly nineteen. Would it be right for me to go places with a girl friend if my father objects to it?
He thinks I shouldn't have either boy or girl friends, but should stay at home all of the time. I will be that your father would take nineteen in December and I think such an attitude unless you have shown him that it is necessary. I should have some liberties. You are under legal age, and therefore subject to your father's decisions.

BLONDIE: I can hardly think ions. Prove to him by your actions that he can trust you and I am sure he will relent to the extent of allowing you to go out with your friends.

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:
I love a boy very dearly who is a year older than I. He also seems to care for me and has told me many lovely things. But I am not sure of his love. How can I prove it?
BLONDIE: If there is any doubt of the young man's love, simply treat him in a friendly way until you are sure. I cannot give you any sure recipe for winning his love nor proving it. True, love needs no proof, and it is only a very foolish girl who would attempt such a silly thing.

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:
I am a girl almost sixteen years of age now. This is the trouble: I have been going with a young man twenty-four years of age.

When I first started going with him I told him I was seventeen, but when he found out my age he didn't seem the same any more. Do you think I should forget him or go with him. I love him and I think he loves me.
J. H.

J. H.: You are entirely too young any but young people of your own age. No wonder your father is strict, he knows his daughter and knows what is good for her. Of course, when the young man learned that you had deceived him as to your age, he ceased his attentions. He is honorable and sensible. Find your real happiness in activities suitable to a young girl, love will come later, when you are better able to appreciate the serious things of life.

AROUND ABOUT TOWN

BY TOM T. JONES.

TO procure gas for his own home situated upon the hilltop overlooking Pennsylvania avenue and just north of Vine street, Dr. W. A. Hobbs has just completed the sinking of a well in a plot of ground abutting his immediate homestead.

After almost two weeks of drilling workmen reached a depth of about 940 feet from which a 90-pound pressure was procured.

Immediately pipes were laid along the hillside south of the home and fuel transmitted into it for both heating and lighting in the degree that is necessary.

It has been the custom of Dr. and Mrs. Hobbs to spend much of the past several winters in travel. During their absence, especially last year, they noted deterioration of some appointments within their home by reason of the continued lack of heat during the cold season. To largely obviate a repetition of such a state he decided to make an effort to procure his own gas.

With a bit of cooler weather that will make harder the surface of the roadway leading to the well the drilling apparatus, all heavy will be removed to Chester, W. Va.

THE large opening of the earth upon the hillside just off Vine street and in close proximity to the Bulger home and another house adjacent to it which caused both of these places to be vacated by what appeared a certain sliding away of the hillside at this point some two years ago has by now been largely refilled by the dripping into the widened open-way of earth and trees alongside and by the constant dumping of material by residents near by into sections of it.

However, there yet remains a wide chasm in certain parts of what was then a long, ever widening ditch. Yet it all by now has the appearance of solidarity. There stands out the feeling that a substantial bottom foundation underlies it so that in time all of it will be completely filled and covered as in the past.

Its present situation is in wide variance to that which obtained on the occasion when daily hundreds were upon the spot and warning signs were displayed by the not venture beyond sections of it for fear of being carried away by the expected avalanche.

TO behold from the hilltop rounding into the Northside or from the landscape commonly known as Hobbs' Hill the East End just after twilight during some of these early winter evenings is to witness an arresting spectacle as the suburb lies silent, apparently in a basin walled by the Ohio river on one side and massive hills ever more darkening upon the other. Under scintillating street lights the whole makes for a unique picture, one seemingly of a huge panorama lying moodily in one's way.

Visits to some fine art galleries will not have greater thrills at times than such a view as this which is ever worth the glimpsing.

Weds Parisienne

Aga Khan, Indian sportsman married Mlle. Andree Carron, young French business woman, in France a few days ago. Aga Khan is reputed to be one of the world's wealthiest men, and is a well-known Mohammedan religious potentate.

the world the late Rt. Rev. John Gardner Murray, presiding bishop of the Episcopal church in America up to the time of his passing away last October, while in the midst of a gathering of his fellow bishops in Atlantic City, N. J., and of the sterling southpaw pitcher of the Philadelphia Athletics, Moses Grove.

The place is near Frostburg and Cumberland, Md., and is a part of the district that is now represented by the Hon. Frederick N. Zihlman, who is now the chairman of the House Committee of the district of Columbia. Strangely enough the latter was born in Carnegie, Pa., not far from East Liverpool and was taken to live in Cumberland, Md., when but three years of age.

Mr. Cline may not be the fisherman that the first two mentioned of this quartette may be but he has been active in athletic departures from his youth. He was a bit of a baseball player himself in his day, perhaps more with whom he would be more accurate. His interest in sport has by now largely centered in golf at which he makes more than a passing gesture when he is so moved.

Hayes is both a hunter and a fisherman. He goes in for both diversions with great interest when the opportunity affords.

One of his companions in his earlier years at hunting in and about Frederick was a brother of Admiral Schuyler with whom he was closely acquainted. Mr. Hayes spent a part of his vacation this year during the early fall in Frederick.

This quartette of men thus have much in common when they recall the historical setting of their one-time homes, which from a distance as far away as East Liverpool serves to accentuate the luster of that commonwealth.

A NEAT, attractive volume of some 127 pages and published by the John C. Winston company of Philadelphia has just come from the press, entitled "Teachings of Solomon." It is the work of the fertile mind of the Rev. Alfred Walls, of Steubenville, who, several years ago, resided in East Liverpool while the pastor of the Anderson Methodist Episcopal church. During his tenure he became widely known and was at home in all of the congregations of the city.

From time to time following his partial retirement from the active ministry Rev. Walls has given to the public pertinent arrangements of certain sections of the Bible in book form.

Motivated by the instinctive observation, "Wise men lay up knowledge," he has approached his effort on this occasion with the idea that "the teachings of Solomon as set forth in this pocket volume are compiled for class discussion as well as for private reading. They are presented in a series of orderly lessons consisting of all of the sayings of the Book of Proverbs which, he holds, a very great book, for young men the best book of every day wisdom ever written. It speaks to young women, too, with a sure voice. Its organization in this volume increases many times over its ready use, and attractively aids in understanding the instruction as a whole."

Its initial part gives Solomon's teachings, ancient moods, "anger, strife, enemies, friends, pride, reproof and the tongue" after the book's authorship is indicated by scriptural assertions and the aims of the following counsels are similarly given.

In its succeeding seven parts the subjects discussed in affirmations of the wisest of men are noted. In turn they are: Business, the Rich, the Poor, Idleness, Intemperance, the House of Death, Wives and Husbands, Fathers, Sons, Fools, Wisdom, the State, Righteousness, Fear of Jehovah, Jehovah and Men, and Forget Not.

THE volume has been peculiarly arranged for adaptation as a pocket book so that it can be carried about and read at any propitious moment when one may have just a bit of leisure. It's order of arrangement stands out so that each subject carries all that the Hebrew king declared upon it. For purposes of ready usage without the need for long and continued delving into the book of Proverbs itself it will find a ready response from those interested in its contents.

Though of small dimensions apparently the volume is packed with a wealth of the statements of the great Israelite ruler. It rather overwhelms by reason of the great amount of work that was necessary upon its author and compiler in completing such an arrangement. One is impressed by the manifest intellectual and spiritual addition that must have come to him who having conceived the idea for such a departure carried it out with so remarkable a fidelity and with the strict personal decision to at all times let the matter within the original Proverbs stand out in their own weight.

It is quite certain that private libraries in many homes in all of the places in which the Rev. Mr. Walls has held pastorates and is known will be further embellished by the addition of this singularly unique and valuable contribution to literature.

WERE there a disposition upon the part of those within its confines electing to organize a Maryland Society of East Liverpool, a quartette of representative citizens, all leaders of their several lines of activity, could easily become the charter members for such an organization and perchance lead those following them in the glad some refrain of that outstanding song, "Maryland My Maryland."

The four are the Rev. Russell B. Caulk, rector of St. Stephen's Episcopal church; Richard Edmonston, proprietor of the "Travelers' hotel," Clarence C. Cline, manager of the famous store on East Fifth street, and William Hayes, of the Bell Telephone company.

From the lower peninsula of the state the Rev. Mr. Caulk hails and there he, at intervals, returns to visit relatives and friends and to indulge in the favorite pastime of fishing.

Mr. Edmonston comes from a family that can trace its ancestry back some 800 years. His forbears lived in and about Georgetown. There one of his sisters yet lives. From time to time he motors to his old home and finds surcease in angling. His father owned a large home and was known to many of the statesmen of early days in Washington. Indeed, it was customary for many of them to visit his home.

Thus, as a lad, he grew up in the atmosphere and knew personally such men as the late Senator Gorman, long the Democratic leader of the United States senate, and Senator Daniel Voorhees of Indiana, who was known all over the country as "The Tall Sycamore of the Wabash."

Mr. Edmonston enjoys another distinction. He is one of the few surviving persons that heard the shot that killed Ohio's first martyred president, James Abram Garfield. On that hot July day in '88 he, a mere lad, was in Washington looking for a job. One of his senatorial friends by reason of his close acquaintance with his father, had advised him to not be satisfied with a government clerkship which the then growing youth thought he would like to annex. "You will do better upon your own initiative," he was told.

He was just passing the depot at the moment when the shot from the gun of the crazed Charles Guiteau was fired. He heard it, saw the great commotion and later beheld the spectacle of the wounded president being placed into a van and rushed to the White House from where several weeks later he emerged only to lie for an interim longer at Long Branch, N. J., where finally his life ebbed away.

It is worthy of note that C. C. Cline came from the same Maryland town which gave to

TEXAS TO MAKE IMPROVEMENTS

Governor Dan Moody Announces $350,000,000 Program for Next Year.

AUSTIN, Texas.—Approximately $350,000,000 will be spent during 1930 for public improvements in Texas, Governor Dan Moody told President Hoover in response to a request for a survey of conditions in this state.

In his statement to the president Governor Moody urged that the chief executive use his influence to increase federal highway aid appropriations from $50,000,000 to $100,000,000 for the coming year. Texas, Governor Moody said, will match dollar for dollar with any amount allotted to this state for highway construction.

PARROT TALKED TO WIFE BEATER

Tells Butte (Mont) Man to "Quit It" as Latter Wields Poker On Spouse.

BUTTE—Jack Benny's parrot lost its head for losing its head. Benny was beating his wife, when the parrot spoke up impatiently, commanding the husband to "Quit it, quit it, quit it." "It talked too much," Benny explained to police, "that's why I cut its head off." He also readily admitted beating his wife with a stove poker, and was sent to jail.

The total "population" of turkeys in England is 697,000, and of chickens 42,750,000.

PLAN SERMONS ON PENTECOST

Midland Methodists to Hear Origin of Church.

MIDLAND.—Plans for religious exercises in the Methodist Episcopal church here to celebrate the nineteenth hundredth anniversary of Pentecost, have been completed by the Rev. William R. Greggs, pastor. The Methodist Episcopal board of bishops urged anniversary services.

Beginning with the Sunday night sermon, the theme each week until the Pentecost Sunday in June, will deal with the founding of the church, the Rev. Mr. Greggs said. The Christmas exercises will be held Sunday, December 22. Special services will be held the Sunday before New Years, while a watchnight service is planned for New Year's eve.

Official board meeting will be held after the Sunday morn services. Bible Sunday will be observed December 22. Trustees will be elected December 29.

Midland Troop Votes
Present for Joseph Hibbert.

MIDLAND—A Christmas present will be sent to Joseph Hibbert, a patient at the Rochester General hospital since the amputation of his foot following an accident in the Pittsburgh Crucible Steel company plant here, by the Troop No. 1 of the Midland Boy Scouts. It was announced today by Alex Della Valle, scoutmaster.

At a recent meeting, 39 members attained 100 percent attendance in an inter-troop contest to train better boys. Basketball league results in Troop No. 1 are: Tigers defeated the Rangers, 10 to 6, and the Pirates downed the Basketball Kids, 8 to 6. Games are played on alternating Monday nights in the Lincoln high school gymnasium.

The East Liverpool Review Co-Operative and Travel Accident Insurance Policy For Any Accident!

Most Newspaper policies pay only for travel or traffic accidents and provide no protection for injuries at home, at work or at play

Through special arrangement with the Columbus Mutual Life Insurance Co., a reliable old line insurance company of Columbus, Ohio, this newspaper is able to offer all its old and new subscribers an entirely different type of newspaper accident insurance policy. The offer provides for a $1,000.00 Co-Operative Industrial and Travel Accident Insurance Policy to the members of every household between the ages of 15 and 70 years.

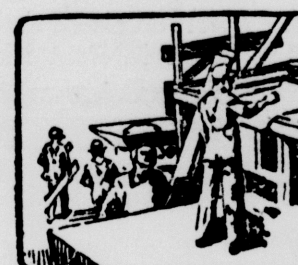

Under the new plan factory workers, machinists, bricklayers, carpenters, farmers, housewives, business men, electricians, taxi drivers, motormen, city firemen, policemen, railroad employes, miners, barbers, traveling men, in fact everyone, without any restriction as to occupation, may secure protection against loss of life, limbs, sight or time as the result of any accident at home, at work, at play or while traveling, as provided in the policy.

The New-Co-operative Industrial and Travel Accident Policy pays for loss of life, limbs, limb, sight, or time caused by any accident.

Accident insurance in this day of mile-a-minute living is a vital necessity carried by every wise man for the protection of himself and family. The new policy increases one hundred dollars ($100.00) each year and may be renewed year after year under the same conditions and for the same cost of $1.50 a year. If one paper is delivered at the home or received by mail every member of the family between the ages of 15 and 70 years, living at the same address, may obtain a policy at $1.50 for each policy, without taking an extra paper.

Injured

VENISON DINNER IN STEEL CITY

John Phelps, Beaver, Host to Midland Foundry Foremen And Their Wives.

MIDLAND—Foremen and superintendents with their wives were guests at a venison dinner last night in the Mackintosh-Hemphill Foundry company restaurant. The host was John Phelps, Beaver, master mechanic, who returned recently from a hunting trip to Camp Hickory, Forest county, where he bagged a 190-pound, eight-point buck deer.

Phelps related his hunting in an after-dinner address.

Mr. and Mrs. Phelps, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Weiss, Mr. and Mrs. Philip McGraham, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Brown, Miss Betty Daniels, Mrs. Roy Montgomery, Fred Daniels, Roy Otto, and William Ralph, all of Beaver; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Pique, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Roller, and Daniel Vonovich, of the Steel City; Mr. and Mrs. N. J. Larkins, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Muligan and Mr. and Mrs. Grant Huff, all of East Liverpool, O., were the guests.

SON OF LOST FLIER EARNS WINGS; SOLE AMBITION TO FLY AIR MAIL

Frank Goldsborough Called Natural-born Pilot; Handles Plane Like Veteran.

WESTFIELD, N. J.—There will be no more trans-Atlantic flying in the Goldsborough family. You can take Frank Goldsborough's word for that. At 17 he had watched his father fly off into the Atlantic mists never to return, and at nineteen he has just earned his private pilot's wing. Now the younger Goldsborough is to carry on the family wings but he has no desire to attempt that in which his father failed.

"Dad was a better air navigator than I can hope to be. Why should I try to accomplish something which he could not do," the boy explains.

Father Lost.

It was on Christmas Day, 1927, that Brice Goldsborough, co-pilot and navigator of Mrs. Frances Grayson's amphibian plane "Dawn" was lost in an attempted trans-Atlantic flight. Mrs. Grayson and her crew of four perished. Brice Goldsborough was the father of the present young birdman who has just passed his pilot's license test and with fifty hours of solo flying to his credit, now awaits inspection for a limited commercial license that will officially launch him upon his flying career.

Young Goldsborough has been receiving his flying instruction at the Atlantic Air College, Westfield, N. J. Airport. His mother, a business woman, has financed his air schooling and accepts with philosophical resignation, her son's determination to fly.

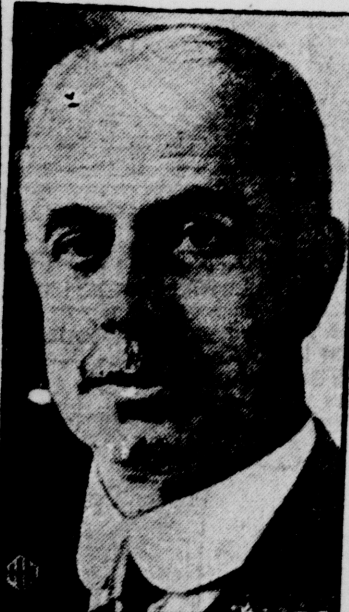

"Aviation has been the chief topic of conversation in the family for so long I can't blame Frank for going into it. He's so happy here at the air college I can't blame him to do anything else. He can do anything he wants to. He's a level headed boy," Mrs. Goldsborough said.

Wants Air Mail Job.
She also mentions something about Frank purposely "flunking" his school work so that he could hasten the day when he could earn his wings.
Frank's sole ambition at present is to fly the air mail. He is an honor student at the Atlantic Air College and his instructor, C. B. Bowyer, states that at fifty hours, young Goldsborough handles his plane like a war veteran.

"He's a natural born flier if there ever was one," Mr. Bowyer said. And the Atlantic Air College officials back him up. In fact they have offered Frank a job at the school's flying field at Westfield, N. J. He plans to work for the air college until he lands his air mail job.

GAS STATION BANDITS FLEE
Beaver Robbers, Unable to Open Cash Register, Make Get-away in Automobile.
BEAVER—Police have asked the aid of county and state authorities in the search for two bandits who made an unsuccessful attempt Tuesday night to rob the Sutton gasoline station after forcing the attendant, W. D. Logan, into a rear room at the point of a gun. Unable to open the cash register, they fled in an automobile.

NEW MILK LAW SEPTEMBER 1

State Legislature Calls Upon all Dealers to File Applications For Licenses.

MIDLAND—New system for handling milk which will permit cities and boroughs to enact ordinances regulating the supply sold within their limits but which places the distributors under state legislation, will become effective September 1, 1930. H. E. Shroat, representative of the state department of health, Harrisburg, advised today.

Dealers must secure permits between December 15, 1929 and September 1, 1930. No fee will be charged.

HONOR SENATOR AT NEW AIRPORT

Private Plant in Connecticut is Named After Hiram Bingham.

NEW HAVEN—A large airport, being laid out on Milford turnpike, a few minutes by auto west of the center of New Haven by private capital, is to be named the Hiram Bingham airfield in honor of Connecticut's senior senator who has been a patron of air transportation for years.

Among structures being erected on the field is a building to house the Yale Aeronautical Society, a body of students industriously engaged in flying.
